Hyundai requires its authorized dealerships to make sure that vehicles meet high program standards, pass a comprehensive inspection, and are eligible to become Hyundai Certified Used Vehicles.

To be eligible to be certified by your Hyundai dealer, all vehicles must be current calendar year plus five (5) previous years with fewer than 80,000 miles. Hyundai also requires the authorized Hyundai dealer to verify that each certified vehicle has a non-branded title with no frame damage indicated, as verified by a CARFAX® Vehicle History Report.™

HMA cannot guarantee the accuracy of and is not responsible for the information included in a CARFAX report. HMA does not guarantee that the presence, dates, mileage and extent of the accidents, incidents or other damage reflected on the report is correct. Vehicles that have had prior repairs for damage that did not impact the vehicle's frame may still be eligible for certification. Certified Used Vehicle status does not guarantee that the used vehicle has never been involved in any prior accidents.

Road-test Checkpoints

With 173 checkpoints, Hyundai requires your Hyundai dealer to verify that the vehicle has an assurance of quality. Hyundai requires your Hyundai dealer to perform maintenance services as necessary by specially-trained Hyundai dealership technicians to bring the vehicle up-to-date, with checks made to all vital fluids, tire tread depth, and brake pad thickness. The dealer is then required to recondition, repair, or replace any component that does not meet Hyundai Certified Used standards.

To see a complete list of the 173 inspection points⁵, please visit HyundaiCertifiedUsed.com

⁵ EV/HEV/PHEV vehicles may be subject to a different number of inspection points. It is solely the responsibility of your authorized Hyundai dealership to conduct the inspection and make sure that the vehicle meets the program standards and passes a comprehensive inspection test.
